

Current NADC Projects

Accreditation of diabetes centres

Development of National Diabetes Curriculum

Development of National Clinical Pathways promoting integration and collaboration

NADC Foot Network: a national coordinated project creating standards and accreditation for high risk foot services in Australia

Quality improvement and benchmarking: Further development and sharing of audit tools. Benchmarking of audit results between services

Australian National Diabetes Strategy (ANDS) 2016-2020: the NADC is working with key stakeholders to implement relevant ANDS goals

Diabetes service mapping: an important resource outlining all NADC centres and the services they provide NADC App provides information on NADC centres, projects, current guidelines, conference programs and much more...

Contact Us

145 Macquarie Street,
Sydney NSW 2000
email: admin@nadc.net.au
www.nadc.net.au

For more information visit
www.nadc.net.au

Follow us on:

Twitter via @NADCAustralia

Facebook via /NADCAustralia

LinkedIn via /nadcaustralia

Instagram via @nadcaustralia

YouTube via NADC Australia

Promoting equity of access to quality care through diabetes centres

National Association of Diabetes Centres

Supporting diabetes services across Australia to provide high-quality care for people with, and at risk of, diabetes

The NADC Difference

The National Association of Diabetes Centres (NADC) was founded in 1994 and is a national collective of organisations that provide diabetes services and care.

NADC's goal is to ensure the highest standard of care is delivered to people with diabetes through our member centres.

NADC Member Centres are a collaborative of diabetes centres passionate about improving diabetes care across Australia.

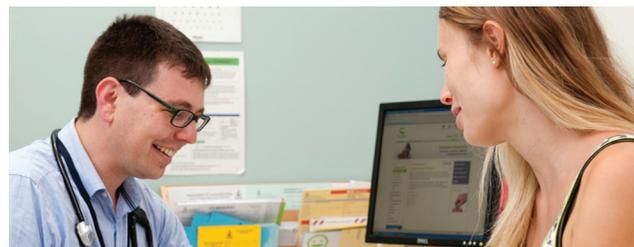

The NADC is the bridge and linchpin between primary care services and the hospital and this model is underpinned by the philosophy of shared care. This is achieved through:

- Increased access to information and networking opportunities
- Promotion of higher standards of care through benchmarking, quality improvement, research and accreditation opportunities
- Enabling collaboration between specialist diabetes services and non-diabetes specialist health professionals to lift standards of care
- Support to smaller diabetes services in regional, rural and remote communities as well as in primary care

Member Benefits

Members have access to a range of resources and opportunities to assist them in achieving best practice in service delivery and care through:

1. Access to diabetes resources and tools in the 'member only' section which includes video presentations and webinars
2. Collaboration and integration with diabetes services across the care spectrum
3. Tips for quality improvement and generating funding
4. Diabetes specific Accreditation Standards
5. National Diabetes Care Course – Diabetes education tool providing current knowledge of diabetes clinical management and self care recommendations
6. Opportunity to be invited to The Best Practice in Diabetes Centres (BPDC) Symposium
7. Reduced registration fee to the ADS/ADEA Annual Scientific Meeting which includes GP education streams
8. The opportunity to participate in the annual Australian National Diabetes Audit (ANDA)
9. Support in working with the NADC to achieve goals under the Australian National Diabetes Strategy

NADC Membership

Membership with the NADC is free for each Primary Health Network (PHN) in Australia. This membership is referred to as "Network" NADC membership. It is anticipated that Network NADC members have an active involvement in supporting diabetes care service providers, are committed to the goals and objectives of the NADC and to optimising diabetes standards of local services. Further, within the group the coordinated approach to diabetes care is encouraged with inter-disciplinary communication, consultation and cross-referral.

In order for a PHN to be recognised as a Network NADC member, an annual application form needs to be completed and submitted to the NADC.

The NADC has five other levels of membership, based on the functions of the centre and its staffing including:

- NADC Centres of Excellence
- NADC Tertiary Diabetes Centres
- NADC Diabetes Care Centres
- NADC Affiliate Diabetes Centres
- NADC Pharmacy Centres

NADC memberships is broad and can include centres and services in:

- Primary care - General Practice centres, community health centres, allied health providing diabetes services
- Pharmacies
- Major hospitals
- Private practice
- Rural and remote areas

For information about the types of NADC membership, or how to apply, please visit:

www.nadc.net.au/membership/